

The illustration depicts a young man with short, light brown hair and a gentle smile, wearing a white long-sleeved shirt. He is embracing a young woman with long, wavy brown hair and large, expressive brown eyes. She has a slightly pensive or shy expression and is holding a small, green, rectangular object, possibly a phone or a small book, in her hands. The background is a vibrant pink with diagonal white stripes. Scattered throughout the scene are several stars: some are solid black, some are white with black outlines, and one is a solid red. The overall style is soft and romantic, typical of anime or manga art.

THERE'S NOTHING STRANGE ABOUT THAT AT ALL.

THAT'S ALL RIGHT.

SOMEWHERE ALONG THE

AND LONGING BECAME...

LOVE
...?

ME?

On the contrary,
I have a mind to whip together
some sekihan!

LOVE...?

...

Sekihan* (literally "red rice"), consisting of glutinous rice and adzuki beans, is a Japanese traditional dish eaten during auspicious occasions, such as birthdays and weddings.

!!

I WANTED TO GIVE YOU SOMETHING, ERITSUIN!

OH, RIGHT!

WHAT?

I thought you hated boys...

SHHF

HUH...? THANK YOU... WHAT-

YOU MUST GO FORTH FEARLESSLY! WOMEN SHOULD HAVE COURAGE, ERITSUIN!

MY... MY EYES ARE BURNING...

*A Japanese proverb reads, "Men should have courage, and women charm." Sara's statement is a play on the traditional proverb.

THAT'S NO DIFFERENT THAN FANTASIZING.

JUST MOPING

WHAT I MEANT WAS...
ARE YOU
OKAY...?

...ARE YOU OKAY
WITH BEING WITH A
JERK LIKE ME? A JERK WHO CAN'T EVEN SAY "I WANT TO BE WITH YOU"
PROPERLY?

THAT'S WHAT I MEANT!

Going with him to the festival.
I wait for him, wearing a yukata.
What do I do? My heart is exploding!
I'm gonna die! (><)
